EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

DR. JOHN WILKINSON TAYLOR

The 1949 Thoroughbred is dedicated to Dr. John W. Taylor, who by his invaluable efforts, is quickly making the University of Louisville one of the most progressive and well known Universities in the country.

Foreword

The 1949 Thoroughbred has chosen for its theme "A University With A Future" in presenting the role each school plays in the development of the University.

The Larson Plan, photographed on the introduction and conclusion pages of the Thoroughbred, represents the architectural program designed to pace the University's progress.

The community has felt the importance of the University of Louisville through education and services offered to it by the Kent School of Social Work, Neighborhood Colleges, Community Chest Drives, and other welfare projects.

The Public Relations Department has looked to the future by sponsoring a color movie entitled "What is a University", portraying campus life at the University of Louisville. The presentation of this film throughout the country will be influential in attracting potential University students to our doors.

One of the most significant changes which the University of Louisville has contributed to education in recent years is the idea of radio-assisted correspondent courses by which students may listen to the radios in their homes and complete work for college degrees. The University has joined with the 137 stations of the National Broadcasting Company in presenting the courses as "The University of the Air."

The 1949 Thoroughbred honors the University of Louisville, a University with a future.

PURCHASING AGENT

REGISTRAR

Ralph E. Hill, who has been Registrar of the University of Louisville since 1928 will retire after 20 years of service. Mr. Hill was Head of the Department of Mathematics, Secretary of the University Council, a member of the University Senate, the Graduate Faculty, the Faculty of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, and served as University Marshall.

He received his A.B. from Albion College and obtained his M.A. from the University of Louisville.

ARTHUR GUNDERSON

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

Mr. Arthur Gunderson, Director of Public Relations since April, 1948, is responsible for making the University of Louisville known throughout the country. He has built up a working relationship with the Louisville community through radio and newspaper publicity concerning every phase of University activity.

Mr. Gunderson has spent most of his professional life in newspaper after college days at the University of Minnesota. That newspaper work has included staff assignments in Chicago, New York, and London and as a war correspondent with United Press.

He came to the University of Louisville from a year's assignment as United Nations reporter for the United Press, having covered the first session of the United Nations in London.

LES SHIVELY

ALUMNI SECRETARY

Mr. Les Shively, Alumni Secretary since 1937, is in charge of alumni fund raising projects, and complete records of 12,000 University of Louisville graduates.

Mr. Shively obtained his B.A. at the University of Louisville.

DEAN JOHN JULIUS OPPENHEIMER

Dean Oppenheimer has been serving the College of Arts and Sciences as a qualified administrator in the field of education since 1931. His interest in better school spirit has initiated a series of beef sessions in which students offer criticisms and suggestions concerning all phases of University life.

Dean Oppenheimer received his B.S. and M.A. from the University of Missouri, and his Ph. D. from Columbia University.

College of Arts and Sciences

From the Physics Building to the Chemistry Building, and from Gardner Hall down "Howdy Walk", past the Administration Building, clear through to the new Naval Science Building — This is Belknap Campus — This is the home of the College of Arts and Sciences, largest and fastest growing college in the "University with a future".

Since its inception in 1798, then known as the Jefferson Seminary, and more particularly since 1924 when it was moved to Belknap Campus, the College has steadily increased its enrollment, faculty, and physical facilities. New departments and courses are constantly being added, fourteen being added during the past year. This increase in classes and enrollment caused class rooms in the old Music and Mechanical Engineering buildings to be opened to Arts and Sciences students.

In the not too distant past our college was frequently referred to as a "street-car college", meaning that most of the students came from the neighboring areas. Fortunately, this condition no longer exists. Our enrollment today is 2,655, and though most of the students still come from Louisville, we have more and more from outside the city. We have 1,628 from Louisville, 402 from Jefferson County, 258 from other counties in Kentucky, 360 from other states, and 7 from other countries.

One of the biggest attractions in the College is its pre-professional training. Down our walks come the lawyers, doctors, dentists, chemists, physicists, scientists, and artists of the future.

Yes, the College of Arts and Sciences is in reality the hub of the University, and along with the University we are looking ahead into the future to an even larger and finer institution.

DEAN MORTON WALKER

Dean Morton Walker, photographed while tossing his hat into the ring as a candidate for Louisville's School Board, will be an important director in molding the University of Louisville's future.

As our ambassador, he will represent the University's role in the community and will be influential in guiding potential University students to our classrooms.

DEAN HILDA THRELKELD

Miss Hilda Threlkeld, Dean of Women and Professor of Education, has been working for the enrichment of student social life and the welfare of students since her appointment here in 1931.

Dean Threlkeld will visit Mills College this summer to participate in the Dean of Women's Workshop where she will derive valuable suggestions for enlarging the University's curriculum and will aid in advancement of her profession by giving her advice as past president of the National Deans of Women.

Her ideas and plans gathered at this meeting will serve as a valuable contribution to the University of Louisville's future.

Law School

DEAN A. C. RUSSELL

A. C. Russell, a faculty member since 1938, and Dean and Professor of Law since 1946, has a varied and multicolored background.

A native of Breathitt County, the Dean was graduated from Berea College in 1928 with the Bachelor of Arts degree. Entering Yale University Law School the same year, he gained the Bachelor of Laws degree in 1930 and soon was admitted to the Kentucky Bar. After several years with the Department of Justice and in private practice, Dean Russell joined the Law School staff as an instructor. After assuming the duties of Acting Dean in 1943, Dean Russell watched the enrollment climb from a low of 12 during the war years, to the present peak of 272. Plagued by a shortage of classroom space and somewhat inadequate library facilities, the Dean utilized every available means to accommodate the increased enrollment, composed almost exclusively of veterans.

In 1948 Russell's Revision of Carroll's Kentucky Code was published by Banks-Baldwin, the first revision of the Code in ten years. This climaxed a career embellished by membership in various bar associations and participation on many committees set up by the Kentucky State Bar Association.

Law School

Although enrollment in various branches of University learning seems to be waning, a major break in Law School student personnel is not expected for several years. All plans for the future have been made with this view in mind.

Paramount consideration is being given to the need for additional classroom space and increased library facilities, so as to further study and research. Despite the need for improvements in the physical plant, an extremely high percentage of graduates have been successful, both in admittance to the bar and in practice.

Schedules will constantly be revised to keep up with the modern trends of practice. Additional courses to be added to the curriculum include Legal Writing and Legislation. These courses have been added to meet the needs for improved writings and to better acquaint the student with legislative problems and processes.

The Briefing Service, a student research group, has been given commodious quarters and their activities and number of students participating are soon to be increased.

A proposed reorganization of the student government into a student bar association is being studied and there is a distinct possibility that student membership in the Kentucky and American Bar Associations may be effected.

In the immediate future, the Bernard Flexner Professorship of Law is to be set up. The late Mr. Flexner, a Law School graduate and successful practitioner in New York, devised $150,000 to the Law School to establish the chair.

Speed Scientific

Speed Scientific School

In 1924 Mr. William S. Speed and Mrs. Frederic M. Sackett established The James Breckinridge Speed Foundation for the addition of a college of engineering on Belknap Campus. The college, to be known as the Speed Scientific School, was established the following year with Bennett M. Brigman as its first dean. After Dean Brigman's death, Dr. Ford L. Wilkinson, Jr. was named Dean and served until January of 1947. He was succeeded by Dr. R. C. Ernst, who had been head of the Chemical Engineering Department.

On January 6, 1940, Mr. Speed and the late Mrs. Sackett gave funds to the University of Louisville for the construction of the Main Building; and on November 19, 1948, Mr. Speed laid the cornerstone for Sackett Hall, funds for which had been provided by the late Mrs. Sackett. Sackett Hall was named for the late Frederic M. Sackett, former United States Senator and Ambassador to Germany.

The Speed Scientific School consists of the Main Speed School Building, The University of Louisville Institute of Industrial Research, Brigman Hall, and, the latest addition, Sackett Hall.

Dental School

DR. WILLIAM MARCUS RANDALL

We the graduating class of June 1949, hereby dedicate this dental section of the Thoroughbred to William Marcus Randall, D.D.S., F.A.C.D., Professor Emeritus.

For the past forty-nine years that Dr. Randall has been teaching Complete Denture Prosthesis at the dental school, he has become an inspiration to both students and faculty. The dental alumni still recall the many pleasant days spent at school under his guidance and many a student has been thankful for his help.

His lectures have aided the students in acquiring adequate knowledge and ability to develop a high degree of artistic and technical skill in the reconstruction and replacement of teeth. He has always strived to better the field of learning by inculcating a friendly relationship between the faculty and the students.

Thus may his name and his spirit continue to live in the hearts and minds of men who have gone as well as those who are to come.

DENTAL SCHOOL—PAST AND PRESENT

In the past sixty-three years that the University of Louisville, School of Dentistry, has been in existence many progressive changes have come about.

The Louisville School of Dentistry was organized in 1886 and became a school of the University of Louisville, the oldest municipal university in this country, in 1918. It was at the time affiliated with the Central University at Richmond, Kentucky.

In 1887, the Hospital College of Medicine established a Dental Department which was housed in a building at the rear of the college structure at 324 East Chestnut. Dr. James Louis Howe was the first Dean of the Dental Department as well as the Dean of the College of Medicine.

The Dental College expanded rapidly and, in 1894, it became necessary to provide more space and new equipment. As it continued to grow, it was soon realized that the facilities were inadequate and that separation of the two departments was advisable. In 1920 a new building was erected on the northwest corner of Brook Street and Broadway.

In August of 1901 Central University of Richmond and Centre College of Danville, Kentucky, consolidated under the corporate name of the Central University of Kentucky, with headquarters at Danville.

Until 1918 the Louisville College of Dentistry remained affiliated with Central University. In this year the School of Dentistry was reorganized as a school of the University of Louisville.

Following the close of the first session in 1887, the College of Dentistry became a member of the National Association of Dental Faculties and has continued its membership into the American Association of Dental Schools, which grew out of that organization.

The general aim of the School of Dentistry has been to educate the student in order that he may competently practice dentistry as a health service and further educate himself. The School of Dentistry has always conformed to the requirements and suggestions of the Dental Education Council of America, which had rated the school as a class A institution, until that council and its ratings were discontinued. The school is now accredited with full approval by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.

There are at present approximately two hundred and fifty students in the School of Dentistry, this being the largest enrollment in the history of the institution. More than one thousand eight hundred living graduates of the School of Dentistry are now practicing in forty-five states and in many foreign countries.

During the past year a considerable amount of work has been done to renovate the dental school building. In the clinic much of the equipment has been refinished and a new receptionist desk installed. Newly-equipped locker rooms have been provided for the students. The front entrance of the building has new doors and a hand-rail for the marble steps. A lot of much-needed equipment has been purchased and modern fluorescent lighting fixtures have brightened many dark areas throughout the building. At present, complete renovation is being performed by painting both corridors and lecture halls.

The School of Dentistry was chosen this year by the office of the Surgeon General, United States Army, as one of the nineteen schools in the nation to have a Dental Corps Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit. A grant of four thousand nine hundred and fifteen dollars for teaching cancer prevention, diagnosis, and treatment was given to the school this year by the Federal Security Agency, United States Public Health Service. Another expansion of the school's services to the community was begun this year with a semi-monthly series of free lectures to the negro dentists of Louisville. A research grant of fifteen thousand dollars has been appropriated by Northwestern University Dental School to this school to carry on one portion of a major experiment concerning the caries problem.

Thus, the School of Dentistry has advanced progressively through a period of sixty-three years, always striving to better the teachings of the dental profession, so that its graduates, faculty and students can be well worthy of it.

DR. RAYMOND E. MYERS

Dr. Raymond E. Myers, Dean of the School of Dentistry, pursued his pre-dental studies at Kentucky Wesleyan College. He received his D.D.S. degree in 1926 and his B.S. degree in 1932 from the University of Louisville. In 1939 he was granted an honorary degree as a Fellow of the American College of Dentists, and, in 1945, was appointed Dean of the School of Dentistry.

Dr. Myers is a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national dental scholastic fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi, and is a member of the International Association for Dental Research.

In 1948 Dr. Myers was made a member of the Beta Epsilon circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national men's honorary fraternity.

Oral Anatomy

'49 A Legend...

The class of '49 ambled into dental school four years ago as a happy carefree group of potential students after having been discharged from the armed forces. Now four years have passed and that group has become a more serious, more responsible, and a more purposeful body. We hope that the story of this metamorphosis is interesting and that we can convey what we feel and remember about those four years to you as vividly as it lives with us. Well, ifs curtain time, so on with the show!

ACT ONE

So this is dental school. We stood in awe before the Dean's secretary as she greeted and welcomed us into school. Then we filled out a "life history" in triplicate and had an interview with the Dean. "Why are you studying dentistry, young man?" That really stumped us. We stammered "er—uh—I—er—want to be—er—a dentist—er, sir." Boy, what a snappy comeback! Somehow we lived through that day of agony and our next trial was with anatomy. Skipping the unpleasant preliminaries, we all came through with flying colors on completion of gross anatomy, after we knuckled down to serious study—of the other fellow's notes.

That summer was rather hectic, for, besides combatting the heat, we were being initiated into the principles of dentistry by learning how to carve wax teeth. Oh, how we suffered as we tried to remember twenty differences between the upper central and the lower central, etc.

In the fall we were once again engaged in the study of slides and bacteria. These basic sciences, we were told, were the fundamental means which we would utilize in aiding us to recognize the various disease processes which may arise from dental infections. We sweated and worked through those courses. We revived long enough to plan the Freshman-Senior dance at the Club Madrid, a gala occasion for the seniors, faculty, students, and friends. Egads, that Christmas vacation was short!

ACT TWO

Oh, well, perhaps the Sophomore year won't be so difficult. Oops, I spoke too soon. For now with pathology, physiology, and restorative to go through we all felt that we were doomed. Yet, the incentive to continue as well as our inherent interest plus the cooperation of our faculty lessened the burden quite a bit. Then, too, there were social events which helped to build up our morales, but those tests on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings in pathology made it mighty drole.

Ah! Another summer came to pass but no vacation for us for we were still at it, cutting cavities, taking four to five impressions on those poor invalid patients in C. D. Such statements as "Make that cavity just a little deeper — that cavity is too deep" or "Don't choke, M'am, or you'll ruin the impression!" will always remain with us throughout life.

ACT THREE

Well, we finally made it! For now we were in the clinic and oh, how those poor patients suffered. With requirements hanging over our heads, instructors breathing down our necks and children screaming their lungs out, we wondered whether we could complete the year in time. However, our gracious dean and faculty came to our rescue in inculcating a short summer session, for which many of us are grateful. Yet with miscastings and other misfortunes we still had our happy moments in and about the clinic.

ACT FOUR

Back in harness again after living on our unemployment insurance checks all summer. Here we are on the last lap and no one is more surprised than we. Gee, it's great to be looked up to and respected for our learning (it says here). However, we still have clinical requirements to complete, state boards to worry about, and a whole future to think of. Some of us have joined the service, others have bought practices, while still others are confused and are worried especially after hearing Dr. Sprau's lectures on Practice Management.

This is a rather sketchy class history but we hope and feel it will be adequate. To those to whom it really matters, the class of '49, their days at dental school are more deeply remembered and remembered in greater detail and sharpness than any book is capable of conveying. It would lose too much in publication and that is why we present a typical day in the life of a dental student on the following page in place of the usual long-winded class history.

Class Will and Testament

We, the class of 1949, residing at the University of Louisville, School of Dentistry, in Louisville, Kentucky, U. S. A., being of sound mind and body, do hereby make, publish and declare this to be our last will and testament and do revoke any and all wills made at any time in the past.

Realizing as we do the brevity of our existence and solicitous and concerned with the welfare of others and cognizant of the influence that experience and determination can have on other minds, we do hereby leave the wealth of our accumulated knowledge, experience, and incidents to those who, in our opinion, may best benefit by the aforementioned and depart with love to all and malice toward none.

We plead with those who will be placed in charge of our interment and obsequies to be swift and calm, neither mourning ridiculously nor cheering indiscriminantly.

We leave to lower classmen in general sixty-three years of dental students tradition, a tradition so strong that it defies the decay of time, a tradition rich in the ways of the little, poor dental student; the scholarly and quiet surroundings of the library; the few but genuine beauties of the campus; the urbanity of Broadway and Brook.

To the men of erudition and brilliance, our faculty, we leave the consolation of having been in our company for four years; we leave them the student body; and we leave the student body to the faculty; God help them both.

To the Frosh, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors-to-be we leave all our material and worldly possessions gathered after hours, weeks and months and years of labor. Herein we specify and direct the various distributions of the following properties:

(a) A good disposition, born of an attitude to take it with a grin.
(b) A pair of magnifying glasses to see the better things in life.
(c) A box of mustache's wax to keep that stiff upper lip.
(d) A bottle of "Rose of the Valley" to be applied to certain jokes.
(e) Mr. Ray Kennedy's place where many a good story is told.
(f) Miss Esther's desk and the ability to defy the laws of the physical world that two bodies can't occupy the same space.
(g) Dr. Grider's office and its orderly filing system.
(h) The X-ray room and the privilege to make noise without suffering the ordinary consequences.
(i) The students' room and the space to build your private "circles".
(j) The stamina to work from 8 A.M. until 5 P.M. without showing the strain.
(k) The love of professional ethics and all that pertains to justice and charity.
(l) One set of crib notes, to be used only in case of necessity.
(m) One missing text-book entitled "Principles of Orthodontia".
(n) One class sweetheart. (Guess who???)
(o) All our voluminous notes, gathered from hours of research and study. (We would like to leave our excellent marks and reputation but they must be "sui generis" ours forever. . . .).
(p) Love for the profession and a solid foundation in its sciences.
(q) The talents and ability of our students, instructors and professors.
(r) The last minute rush in completing clinical requirements.
(s) The understanding of professors' dry courses.
(t) The super-human power of understanding weight losses after casting.
(u) The humor and good fellowship of our boys.
(v) The good fortune to work with an administration willing to do all for the students.
(w) A really good group of profs who have suffered much because of our searching after higher education.
(x) A happy four years.
(y) A long life.
(z) A sincere vale.

Be it witnessed hereby that we, the class of '49, do sign this will on this the fourteenth day of June in the year 1949 A. D.

Acknowledgments

We wish to express our indebtedness and sincere gratitude to the following people for their invaluable assistance in preparing this section for the Thoroughbred:

To Dr. Myers: for his untiring effort and willingness to help and for the inspiration and aid he has given.

To the Members of the Faculty: for their willing cooperation in aiding us to obtain a complete file of photos.

To the Non-instructional Staff, who have always been willing to make our burden lighter.

To Mrs. Esther Cadwalader, who has gone out of her way in order to assist the honored seniors in their work.

To Miss Dorothy McCaffrey, for sacrificing many a lunch hour in correcting and typing this complete section.

To Hobson L. Sinclair, who endangered life and limb in making those interesting and humorous caricatures of our temperamental subjects.

To Eric Sonnenberg, Stanley E. Todd, David Eugene Mackil and Dr. Ernest E. Ellison, who spent many an untiring moment trying to take good photos for the section.

To Carroll Wollery and Andy Moore of the Century Studio: for their patient handling and superior skill in the taking of pictures for this section.

To Stanley E. Todd, whose assistance as assistant editor proved tremendously valuable.

To Friedlander-Stein and Miss Kathleen Coomer for helping and arranging this section into an orderly and interesting fashion.

To those of the student body, who were most gracious to assist and willing to cooperate.

Medical School

DEAN JOHN WALKER MOORE

DEDICATION

It is with deepest gratitude and affection that we the students of the school of medicine dedicate this section of the Thoroughbred to our beloved Dean John Walker Moore.

School of Medicine

This is the 112th year in the longevity of this school. From the time of its inception in 1837 to the present date its history has been one of devotion to the principals.

The Medical School of the University of Louisville in the beginning was known as the Medical Institute of the City of Louisville, whose charter was secured from the state legislature. The law authorizing the establishment of the Medical Institute was approved on February 2, 1833. It is of interest to note that in article 6 of this act it was provided to have clinical instruction for the students. This was a very advanced step in medicine at this time. The clinical institutions affiliated with the Medical Institute at this time were the medical department of the poor house and hospital. At this time the procurement of competent instructory was difficult and this coupled with the need for financial assistance delayed the opening of the institute until 1837. The City of Louisville having a stratigitis river location played a part because of increasing the size of the city causing greater clinical facilities. Six members of the Transylvania Medical Faculty seeing the greater opportunity offered here wanted the institution moved here. The resulting disagreement moved part of the faculty to Louisville and facilitated in the opening of the Medical Institute of 1837.

The members of that first faculty are as follows: Henry M. Miller, a graduate of Transylvania, professor of obstetrics and disease of women and children; Charles Caldwell, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, professor of the institute of medicine and clinical practice and medical jurisprudence; John Esten Cooke, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, professor of the theory and practice of medicine; Lunsford Pitts Yandell, Sr., a graduate of Transylvania, professor of materia medica, lecturer on chemistry and dean of the faculty; Joshua Barker Flint, a graduate of Harvard, professor of surgery; Jedediah Cobb, a graduate of Bowdoin, professor of anatomy. At the end of the first session Dr. Charles Wilkins Short of Transylvania assumed his duties as professor of materia medica and medical botany while Dr. Yandell became professor of chemistry and pharmacy. At the opening of the third session Dr. Daniel Drake, who was then internationally known, accepted the professorship of clinical medicine and pathological anatomy. While on the faculty here he finished a monumental work, A Systemic Treatise, Historical, Etiological and Practical on the principal diseases of the interior Valley of North America, as they appear in the Caucasian, African, Indian and Esquimaux varieties of its population. It had taken him 30 years to compile this volume consisting of 878 pages with 19 plated. It appeared in 1850 and a second one of 985 pages in 1854.

On April 23, 1846, the formal name of the University of Louisville was assumed by two departments, a department of medicine and a department of law. By amendment of the charter of the Louisville Medical Institute it became the department of medicine.

In these earlier years the education of the embryo physician was far different than the curriculum followed today. Medical education in those days consisted of apprenticeship and attendance upon lectures. Little was the amount of medical literature and smaller still was the amount of clinical hospital training. The professors in medical institutions were looked upon as the leaders in medicine and desiring recognition tried to become attached to a medical faculty. Because great numbers in the City of Louisville wished to have these coveted positions the establishment of more medical schools to supply this need was the normal turn of events. Thus at one time there were five medical teaching institutions in this at the same time. They were besides the University of Louisville Department of Medicine, The Kentucky School of Medicine founded in 1850, The Louisville Medical College in 1868, The Hospital College of Medicine in 1873, and the Medical Department of the Kentucky University in 1898. In 1908 the five schools were merged into one under the title of the University of Louisville School of Medicine. With the union of the various schools the building which had been used by the Louisville College then located on First and Chestnut Streets, was taken over and has served for the teaching of the preclinical subjects until 1935 when a new annex was erected.

In 1922 the governing board of the city and the board of trustees of the University of Louisville made an agreement whereby the professional work of Louisville City Hospital, an institution of 400 beds, was placed entirely under the direction of the School of Medicine. Before this agreement was made the faculty of the medical school was appointed to serve in the hospital only during the school year. During the summer months other physicians were appointed by the Board of Public Safety to care for the afflicted. All the various services necessary for the adequate care of patients and for teaching, together with offices for full time clinical faculty, are housed in this hospital. In 1930 teaching affiliations were made with Waverly Hills Tuberculosis Sanatorium, a modern charitable institution with a capacity of 440 beds. In 1932 a similar affiliation was made with the Children's Free Hospital with a capacity of 75 beds. Along the same period of time the responsibility for the maintenance and development of the Psychological Clinic, which had been conducted for about ten years by an organization of the Community Chest, was assumed by the Psychiatric Department of the School of Medicine. From this came the Mental Hygiene Clinic, housed on the grounds of Children's Free Hospital. In 1946 a working agreement was made with Nichols Veterans Hospital, this being the first such agreement between a veterans hospital and a medical school in the United States. In 1946 the Electoencephalographic service was reorganized by Dr. Ephram Roseman and space set aside for same. The latest addition to the School of Medicine is the University of Louisville School of Medical Research Institute under the direction of Dr. Hampden Lawson and Dr. Peter K. Knophel. This is the second such institute in this country, the other being at Harvard University.

Also to be mentioned is the splendid library one of the finest in this country. All the latest books and bound copies of all journals in the field of medicine and surgery are kept there.

The faculty now consists of 285 members. The number of beds available for clinical teaching is over 1100. This shows the amount of progress this time honored institution has been able to make for itself.

The minimum requirement for admission to the medical school is 60 semester hours of creditable college work, as fixed by the Association of American Medical Colleges. The Freshman class enrollment is fixed at 96 and the average enrollment in the school is around 350.

A LOOK TO THE FUTURE

Our recommendation for the future is the formation of a Medical Center in this area. This step is being taken by the foremost Medical Schools in the country. By a Medical Center we mean an institution in its broadest sense that would bring together general and special hospital; medical, dental and nursing schools; facilities for research; and would aid in promoting health centers and other activities in cooperation with the State Health Department.

Music School

School of Music

The School of Music, founded in 1932, has, through sixteen years of development, earned its present home on the edge of Cherokee Park. Gardencourt, the estate of Miss Mattie Norton, was a gift of members of the Norton family, in March of 1947, after the death of Miss Norton.

The house and cottage contain studios, classrooms, practice rooms, administrative offices, a library and a recital hall. Fourteen acres of formal lawns, gardens and natural woods provide peace and inspiration to the students and faculty. Because of the enlarged facilities, the school has been able to accept new faculty members and a greater number of students.

Dean Dwight Anderson

Plans have been drawn up for a new and larger recital hall to replace the one now in use. The music library is being enlarged at all times. Generous donations by many of the school's patrons have made the library one of the most complete in this part of the country.

Many of the students play in the Louisville Philharmonic Orchestra, thus not only contributing to the cultural life of the community, but also providing themselves with valuable experience. Wide experience is also gained by participation in the band, the orchestra, the chorus, the madrigal group, and a WHAS radio program called "Afternoon at Gardencourt." Several students are looking forward to their teaching days by doing some teaching now in their spare time.

Various traditions are being established: such as, the annual spring chorus program and the contemporary music festival.

Both the students and the faculty are working toward the betterment of the school so that eventually it will be one of the best in the country.

Division of Adult Education

MR. WOODROW M. STRICKLER

Mr. Woodrow M. Strickler came to the University of Louisville in 1938 as a member of the teaching staff of the Department of Economics. In 1942 he was appointed as Associate Professor of Economics and Director of the Department of Cooperative Education. In 1943 he entered the United States Navy and served as Assistant Officer in Charge, Educational Services Section, Bureau of Naval Personnel, Washington, D. C. He returned to the University of Louisville in April, 1946, as director of the Division of Adult Education.

Mr. Strickler received a B.S. degree from Bucknell University and an M.B.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. He is a member of the Southern Economic Association, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Delta Mu Delta.

Division of Adult Education

The Division of Adult Education, since its establishment in 1928, has been operated for the benefit of individuals who, for various reasons, are not able to participate in the usual day-time system of education. Students in the Division of Adult Education are employed people who cannot attend classes scheduled during the day, mature students no longer concerned with earning academic degrees, and many others who because of their duties, responsibilities or special interests have found it impossible to take up residence at the University.

The education services of the Division of Adult Education are organized around three primary aims: to help men and women advance professionally; to aid them in meeting their responsibilities as citizens; to assist in their pursuit of intellectual interests. To carry out these aims the Division must reach out beyond the confines of the campus, beyond the age limits of conventional college students, and beyond the range of traditional college subjects.

This Division has always adhered to a policy calling for continual expansion and extension of educational services. There has been a steady growth in the more fundamental portions of its program, which have included an increasingly comprehensive list of courses held on Belknap Campus and the establishment of a wider variety of classes in industrial plants, public agencies and institutions. Under a scholarship plan, developed in cooperation with military authorities at Fort Knox, during each semester over 200 students attend classes held at Fort Knox and on Belknap Campus. In addition, attention has been given to the development of other valuable effective educational techniques.

In September, 1947 the Division of Adult Education, in cooperation with the Louisville Free Public Library, established an educational plan which was to gain national recognition as the Neighborhood College Program. Evening courses in English, history, literature, music appreciation, natural science and social science were offered. Classrooms, modern teaching aids and study materials were made available by the library for classes taught by regular faculty members of the University. With this extension to the community of the University's faculty and teaching resources and with utilization of the educational facilities of the library, Neighborhood College brought the advantages of higher education to thousands of people who otherwise would have been unable to enjoy them.

Encouraged by this experience of bringing college level courses within walking distances of the home, the Division of Adult Education a year and a half ago began to investigate the possibilities of moving another step forward with the hope of taking college courses directly into the home. In this manner education by radio became a reality.

Cooperating with radio stations WAVE and WHAS in the summer of 1948, the University of Louisville for the first time in educational history was able to bring regular university courses into the homes of those who desire a college education and who are prevented for one reason or another from going to a university. Noteworthy in its experiment in radio-assisted correspondence courses has been the cooperation with the National Broadcasting Company. Pioneered by the University of Louisville through nation-wide broadcasting facilities education by radio has been added during the past year as an integral part of the educational programs of many of the country's outstanding colleges and universities. This Division is now looking forward to an opportunity for greater progress in mass education through the medium of television. In an effort to fulfill the policy of the Division of Adult Education for extending educational services to increasing numbers of people, continued efforts will be made to utilize technological devices developed for the communication and exchange of ideas.

The Division of Adult Education believes that education must not be restricted by conventional methods, subjects, or procedures, but must constantly seek new methods, new subjects and new procedures which changing conditions both require and provide. A fundamental purpose of the Division, therefore, is to remain dynamic — ready to venture into new and unexplored areas of education. The University of Louisville, through its Division of Adult Education, aims to provide adult students with a background of knowledge and interest in the chief fields of human thought and achievement, so as to make for more adequate living in their professional or business lives, in their leisure time, and in their civic responsibilities.

As evidence of the need for such a program this Division has grown from a classroom enrollment of 109 students in 1928 to over 2600 for the Fall Semester of the 1948-49 school year. In addition, over 10,000 people from every state in the United States and from many foreign countries have participated in the University of Louisville's program of radio-assisted correspondence courses.

Kent School

DEAN HOWELL V. WILLIAMS

Dr. Howell V. Williams obtained his undergraduate degree from the University of Missouri in 1930. In 1936 he completed his Master's requirements at Bucknell University and some six years later received his doctorate from the University of Chicago.

Dean Williams initiated the psychiatric social work program of the Kent School, with the support of a federal grant, a short time after his arrival in 1947. During his period at the School, the full time enrollment has increased as a result of concentration on finding additional field work placements in the community.

The Dean has headed the annual drives of the Community Chest and the American Red Cross at the University. He is a consultant and board member of numerous public and private welfare agencies in the community.

RAYMOND A. KENT SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

The school is a professional school of social work offering the degree of Master of Science in Social Work upon the completion of two years of graduate study. A provisional professional certificate is awarded for one year of successful study. The school had its beginning in 1918 as a group of courses sponsored by the Louisville Welfare League. It became affiliated with the University in 1923 and in 1937 became the Graduate Division of Social Administration within the Graduate School. In 1944 it became an autonomous professional school in the University and was named as a memorial to Dr. Raymond A. Kent, late president of the University.

Graduation from a recognized college or university and an undergraduate background in the social sciences is required for admission to the school. The curriculum consists of professional social work courses and three days a week in supervised field work placements in the community. The first year is basic and general; in the second year the student may concentrate on medical, psychiatric, or family social work. The school is accredited as a two year graduate school of social work by the American Association of Schools of Social Work and the medical and psychiatric sequences are accredited by the respective professional organizations in those areas.

The professional social worker is concerned with a wide variety of social problems. The social worker is employed in departments of public assistance and public welfare, child welfare agencies and services, family service agencies, medical and psychiatric social service, in the visiting teachers' departments of the public schools, group work agencies, and in agencies concerned with community organization, social research, and social welfare planning. The postwar period is creating a heavy demand for social workers in all of these fields and many new fields which are opening up, such as industry or labor unions.

Kent School

The faculty of the Kent School of Social Work consists of five full-time faculty members and a number of part-time lecturers who are social work, medical, and psychiatric specialists in the community. An advisory committee of nine practicing social workers assists in the formulation of policies of the school. Nineteen public and private social agencies cooperate in providing field work centers, including supervision by staff members. The full-time faculty members of the Kent School serves the social agencies in the community in advisory and consultative capacities; each member has a heavy schedule of such community activities in addition to the regular teaching duties. The option of a research project which the second year student may elect in lieu of a thesis, initiated in 1948, gives the students added opportunity to serve the community by research on social problems.

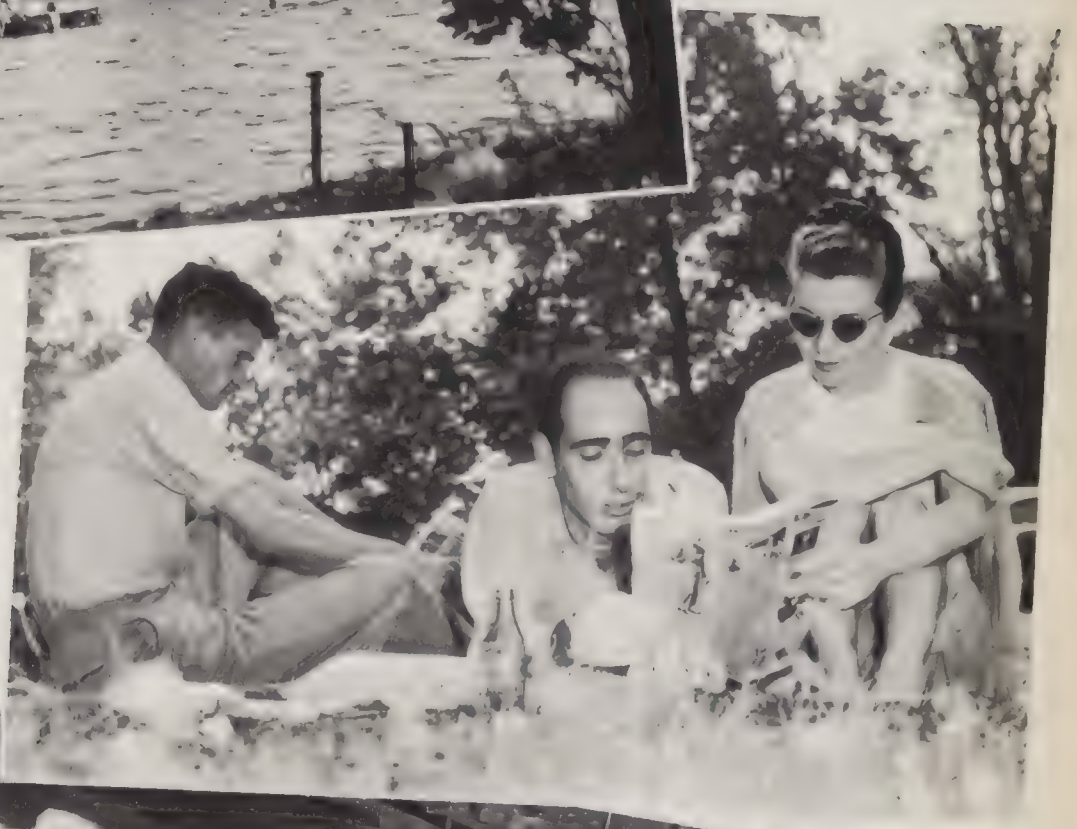
Leadership Camp

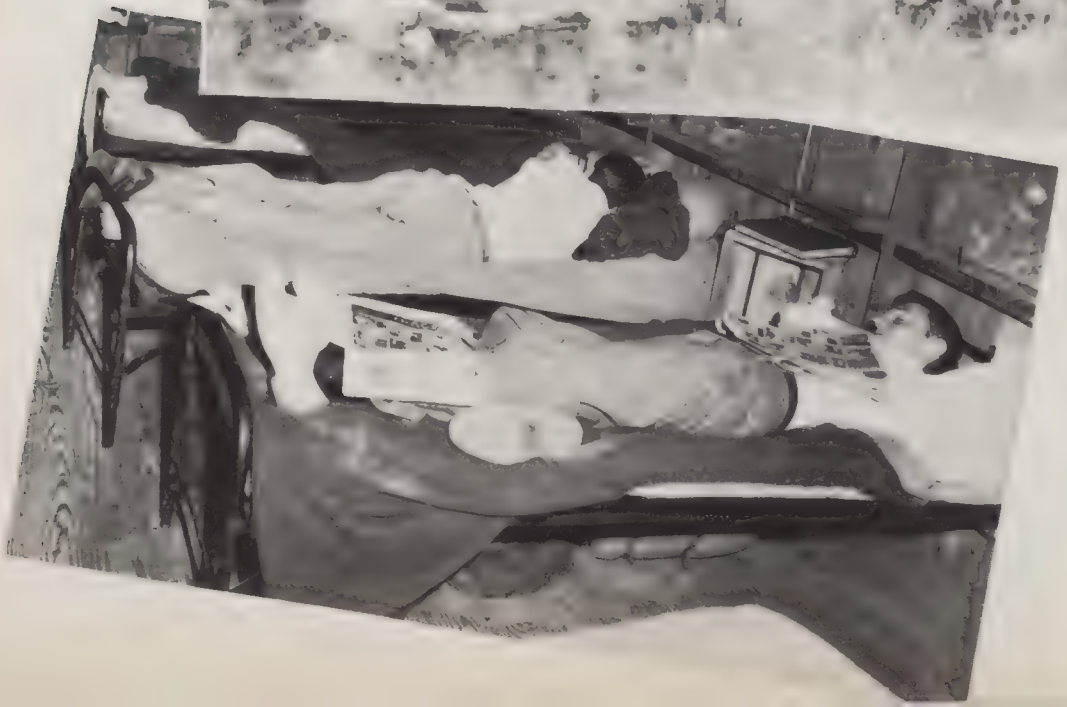
Leadership Camp

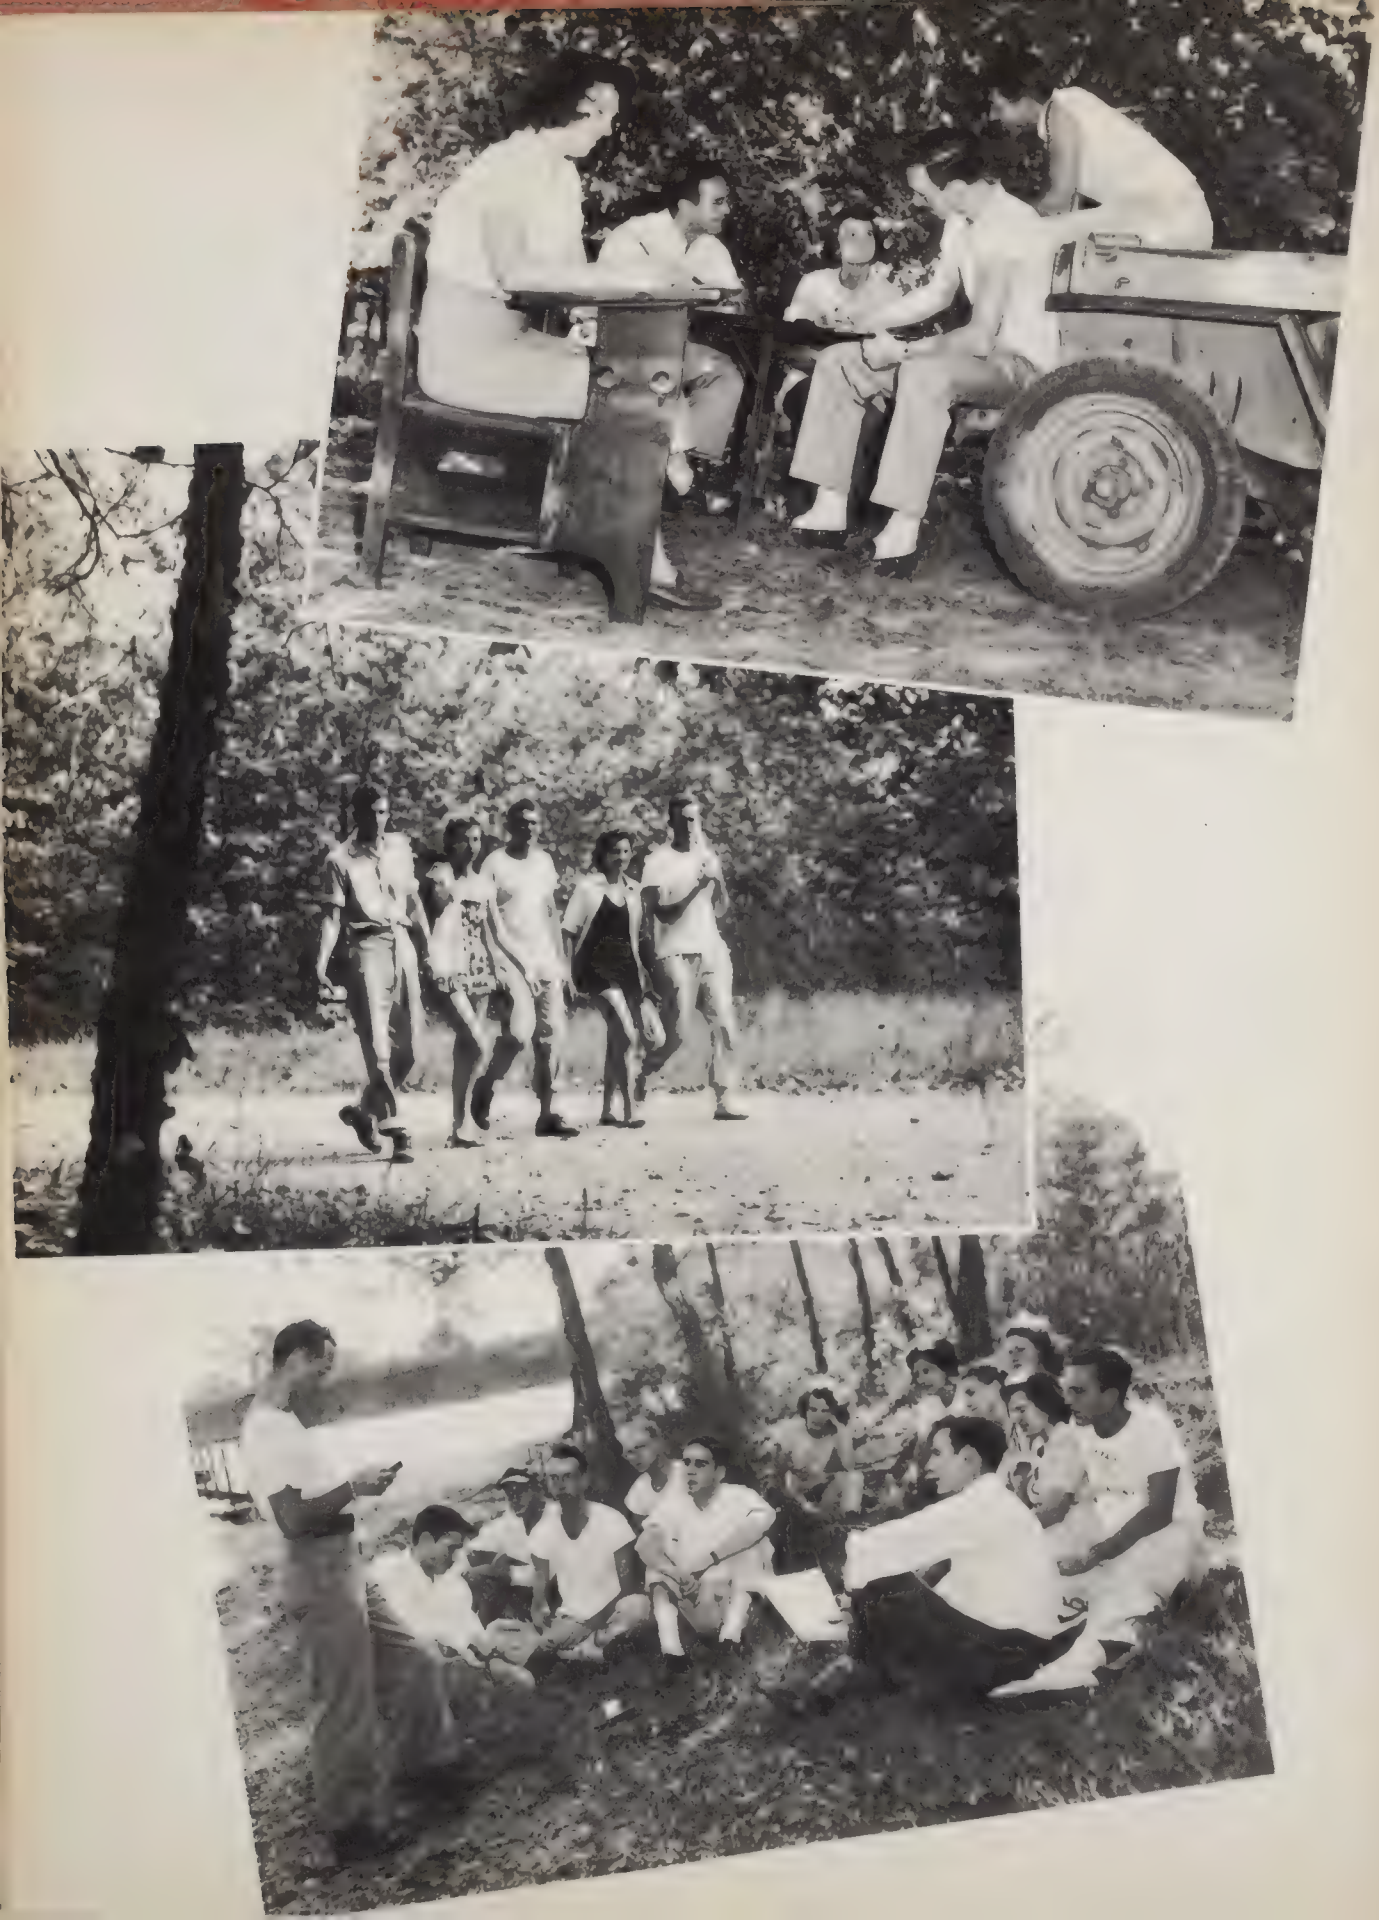
For eleven years student leaders from the University of Louisville have met at Leadership Camp to conduct workshops on particular phases of campus activities. The first meeting in 1838 was for women leaders only but in 1946 both men and women attended the session.

Last summer leaders met at Camp Chelan, Sellersburg, Indiana, to discuss such topics as the Pep Club, Faculty Rating, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, International Student Exchange, Intramural Sports, Publications, and Additions and Changes in the University Curriculum.

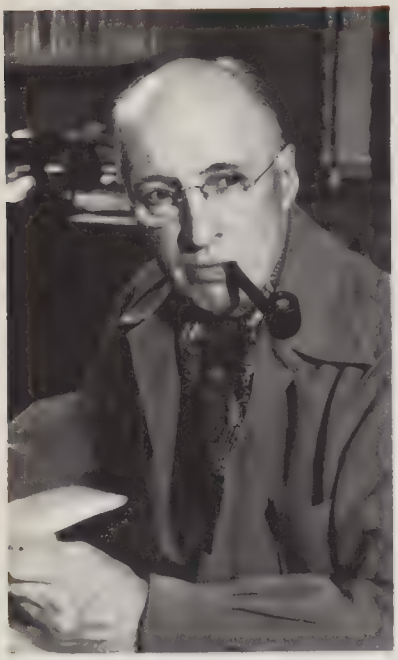
The discussions and suggestions brought forth at Leadership Camp provide a social program for the coming year and aid students in understanding the importance of student activities on campus.







The Little Theatre



"Pop Martin"

The past year represents the thirty-fifth that Boyd Martin has successfully directed the destinies of the Little Theatre Company. Undaunted by the years, "Pop" is still striving to obtain a suitable building for the presentation of plays in a modern, up-to-date manner. In spite of the highly efficient corps of trained actors, stagehands, house men and what have you, the cramped quarters of the present building, ill affords what could be done under other circumstances. So along with many other lovers of the stage, "Pop" continues to hope for the fruition of a dream that is long lived. That summed up, perhaps too briefly, is the aspiration held by the "Little Theatre Company" for the future.

Little Theatre

The 1947-'48 season of the Little Theatre Company ended with Bayard Veiller's "The Trial of Mary Dugan", Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" and George M. Cohan's "The Tavern". The offerings of the current season to date have been Sir James M. Barrie's "Dear Brutus", St. John Ervine's "The First Mrs. Fraser" and Mildred Summit's "Beside Myself". An outstanding cast turned in a brilliant performance in the "First Mrs. Fraser" with Mrs. Barbara Strater becoming the Medallion candidate from that particular play. Also noteworthy for this season was the world premiere showing of Mrs. Summit's "Beside Myself".

Back of the actors, as always, are the unseen artisans of the backstage crew, who while unseen play a tremendous part in bringing the medium of the drama to life in an entertaining manner. Engaged principally in this phase of work is, as most everyone knows, Rollo Wayne as set designer, George Weinmann as stage manager assisted by carpenters, painters, etc., Walt Bauer and Watson Lindsay as electricians, and Grave Von Allmen as Property Chairman assisted by Mrs. Pryor Phelps in the role of Wardrobe Mistress. Also contributing in large measure to the enjoyment of an evening at the theatre are the untiring efforts of Mary Gaither as Secretary and Box Office Manager and of Dr. Louis Baer as House Chairman helped along by his ticket takers and ushers.

In common with the other phases of University life, the Playhouse, representing as it does a focal point of dramatic effort in the community, accepts the challenge of the future to attain still greater heights of excellence. To understand fully what such attainment means, it is necessary for one to steep himself in the rich traditions built up in the long history of the "Little Theatre Company" and its forbears. Space does not permit such a lengthy review here, but any interested bystander may feel free at any time to converse with Mrs. Wilbur Cogshall on this subject or else obtain some of her writings which are easily obtainable at the Playhouse. Altogether too few are the students attending this University, who are cognizant of the value and entertainment available to themselves through participation in this veteran amateur group. It is well to note at this point that any students sufficiently interested can now gain academic credit for participation with the company, either as actors, stagehands, or in some other position.

JOHN HELDMAN, JR.
Athletic Director

JOHN HELDMAN, JR. . . graying, pipe smoking Athletic Director and baseball coach at Louisville is completing his 13th year in the school's service.

Well known for years as a leader in the field of health and physical education, 'Jolly John' as he has been nicknamed, is a believer in a well-rounded physical education program for everyone.

The crack baseball teams he produces are very well regarded. Last season, he went over the century mark in games won as a college diamond mentor.

Heldman, who operates Louisville's expanding athletic plant quietly and efficiently, has been a driving force in elevating U. of L.'s athletic position to national prominence.

He received his A.B. degree from Oberlin in 1928, where he won fame for his performances in football, basketball and baseball. Later, he received his Master's Degree from Columbia University.

"PECK" HICKMAN
Basketball Coach

PECK HICKMAN . . . received his initial opportunity to coach college basketball at Louisville during the latter war years when University officials decided to expand the Physical Education department, so to benefit Naval Trainees when stationed on Belknap Campus.

Since then, Hickman has molded yearly championship teams that has slowly edged the Cardinals into National prominence.

This year's club, with a 23 and 10 win-loss record (including tournaments) was victorious in the Kansas City Holiday Invitational Tourney, and runner-up in the first Ohio Valley Conference Tournament. Peck's 'Bad Boys' whipped such nationally ranked teams as Western Kentucky, North Carolina State, Eastern Kentucky and Seton Hall.

FRANK CAMP
Head Football Coach

FRANK CAMP . . . came to Louisville in 1946 after compiling an impressive winning record at high schools in Kentucky and has succeeded in giving the U. of L. its first winning grid teams in many years.

"Coach of the Year" of the K. I. A. C. Conference in 1947 after his gridders completed an undefeated season, Camp moved his Cards into tougher competition in 1948, with a corresponding slump in the win-loss column.

The football team won five, lost five, during the '48 season. Camp-coached U. of L. teams have won 18, lost 7, tied 1, since 1946.

BOVARD CLAYTON
Athletic Publicity Director

BOVARD CLAYTON . . . former sports commentator for Radio station WGRC in Louisville, is completing his first year as U. of L. athletic publicity director. He also serves as business manager for the school's athletic teams, and handles local ticket sales.

Memphis State	7	6	0	0	13

A band of fleet Memphis State backs tore a meek Louisville line to shreds at Crump Stadium in Memphis on September 25, to hand the Cardinals their first defeat in 10 consecutive games by 13-7.

Outfighting the Cardinals in practically every department, the Tigers led by John Cobb, Emmett Kirk, and George Sneed, scored both their touchdowns in the first half before Louisville finally got its bearings and scored a lone marker just before the half ended.

Then the Tigers' rugged defense held off an ever-threatening Cardinal offense throughout the final two quarters to earn a well-deserved victory.

The Cardinals appeared far from ready for a ball game as the heavier Tigers, who were playing their second game of the season, thrilled a home-town crowd of about 7,000 people.

Louisville traveled the length of the field for their lone touchdown. Tom Lucia returned the kickoff to his own 26 and from there, the Cardinals got their aerial game functioning and weren't stopped until Stu Gibson plunged over from the one-yard line. George Bertram added the extra point from placement.

U of L	6	7	0	7	20
St. Joseph's	0	0	0	0	0

It was freshman night at Parkway Field as Louisville's Cardinals won their home opening game by a 20-0 count over St. Joseph's College of Indiana.

And it was the biggest freshman in the bunch, 200-pound, 6-foot, 4-inch fullback John Brewer from Bradshaw, W. Va., who started the Cardinals off to their first victory of the season before a crowd of 6,000 persons.

Brewer, one of eight first-year men Coach Frank Camp started, sparked a first-quarter Louisville march and personally accounted for the first Cardinal touchdown.

Then the veterans Joe Trabue and Tom Lucia took over after the big fullback left off and scored the other two Card touchdowns in the second and fourth periods. Trabue counted on the longest run of the game, a 57-yard gallop in the final quarter.

The entire Card team showed vast improvement over the play exhibited in the season's opener at Memphis State the preceding week, with alert and aggressive play marking their efforts. However, five fumbles by the Champion showed that they were still off in their timing.

After the game, Camp appeared pleased at the improvement shown by the Cards, but he still expected more.

After battling a favored Xavier eleven on almost even terms during the first half, Louisville's Cardinals succumbed to the more experienced Musketeers in the last two periods, to lose 47-26 at Cincinnati.

Xavier	21	7	7	12	47

The Cards first touchdown, scored on a surprising 65-yard march the first time they handled the ball, gave the 8,000 persons in Xavier stadium an early indication of the fireworks that were in store in this explosive, high scoring encounter.

For the Musketeers, infuriated by the audacity of the Cards, rated as three-touchdown underdogs, erupted for touchdowns the next two times they got their hands on the ball.

They roared on to pile up a 28-6 margin midway in the second quarter and headed the game for a disastrous rout, before the pass-snagging and running of little Tom Lucia put the Cardinals back in the ball game.

The Cardinal's two veterans, Lucia and Joe Trabue, accounted for the three touchdowns that gave Card fans such high hopes at half-time. The score was 28-20, then.

Xavier roared on in the second half, although Louisville never stopped trying. The score was 47-20 before the Cards could tally again, this time in the last minute of play, when 'Lil Bill Womack pitched a pass again to Lucia in a play covering 44 yards.

George Bertram added two extra points from placement.

Louisville's Cardinals opened with a little used weapon, a good defense, to score a 13-0 victory over Akron's Zippers here tonight.

With a slippery field never allowing their offense to function at top speed, the Cards scored in the second and third quarters. Then, with the Card line stiffening each time the Zippers threatened, they coasted to victory before approximately 3,000 persons in Akron's Rubber Bowl.

Tom Lucia counted the first Cardinal touchdown on a 10-yard run after a partially blocked Akron punt had given the Cardinals the ball deep in the Zipper territory.

The second also came on a break, when guard Dick Rager intercepted an Akron pass on the Louisville 25, and returned 72 yards to the Akron 3. Don Shelton scored after a 15-yard holding penalty set Louisville back to the Zipper 18. Bertram added the extra point.

Especially pleasing in the encounter, played for the most part in a drizzling rain, was the play of the Card ends. Jim Haller played a bang-up game, smashing through to drop Zipper backs for many long losses. Gene Detenber looked good offensively, with several sparkling catches, while Frank Grdnic broke through to block one Akron punt and recover it himself.

The victory of the second of the season for the Cardinals against two losses.

Western Ky.	6	0	0	0	6

Louisville's Cardinals spotted Western a first quarter touchdown and then roared back to score three of its own to down the battling Western Kentucky Hilltoppers 19-6 before a crowd of about 1,000.

Through three quarters, the game was typical of most past Louisville-Western clashes. Both elevens fought savagely for a telling advantage.

And it was the Cardinals who finally achieved that goal. The margin of victory doesn't tell completely just how close the bitterly-contested battle really was.

After the brilliant running of Louisvillian Hal Taylor had paced Western to touchdown land and a 6-0 lead, the Cardinals bounced back. Behind the amazing passing of Frank Gitschier, and the equally sensational pass-snagging of Frank Ramsey, they tied the count in the second period.

Gitschier's accuracy and the running of big John Brewer, who scored the winning points, were the sparks in Louisville's payoff drive in the third period. Then Joe Trabue and Tom Lucia teamed to add the clinching Cardinal marker in the final quarter.

Statistically, the Cardinals didn't possess the 3-1 advantage shown by the score. Louisville outgained the Toppers only 161 to 122, and made only two more first downs than the visitors. The Cardinals also held a slight advantage in passing as Gitschier and Pickens hooked up in one of the tightest passing duels seen in Louisville for a long time.

U of L	0	6	0	13	19
Buffalo U.	7	14	20	7	48

Buffalo's Bulls completely wrecked the University of Louisville's homecoming at Parkway Field October 31, as they romped to a 48-19 victory before a crowd of approximately 10,000 spectators.

Buffalo was typical of a Bull in a china closet as it smashed to small bits every type of defense the Cardinals employed.

They rolled goalward shortly after the opening whistle sounded, and allowed the Cards to strike back for a second quarter touchdown that almost equalized things.

That Card tally was like a red flag waved in the invaders face. The aroused Bulls opened up with a devastating offensive that produced two markers before the half was over and four more in the final two stanzas.

Louisville's first scoring assault came in the second quarter. Don Shelton, whose running sparked the 73-yard Card drive, tallied on a four-yard stint around right end. In the last quarter, the Cards managed to out-score the visitors. Gitschier ended a 65-yard drive with a 3-yard aerial into the waiting arms of Jim Haller in the end zone.

Brewer scored the final Card tally on a 24-yard gallop through center. George Bertram added the extra point.

U of L	14	6	7	6	33
Catawba	0	7	0	14	21

Louisville's weekly battle of touchdowns came off as expected at Parkway Field the night of November 6, as they rolled to a 33-21 victory over Catawba's Indians.

The Cardinals, playing their best ball of the season before Dad's Night crowd of 6,000 piled up a 20-7 halftime lead, then relaxed just enough in the last half to allow the Redskins to make a game of it.

The Indians pulled to within 6 points midway in the fourth period, but Louisville, led by hard running freshman fullback John Brewer, had enough stretch kick left to put over the clincher in the final minute.

Louisville reached pay dirt two out of the first three times they handled the ball, with Brewer crossing the goal line on both occasions.

Then in customary Cardinal fashion, they seemed to neglect their defensive duties to allow the invaders to count early in the second quarter.

Joe Trabue turned in the longest run of the night, a 71-yard sprint over tackle for Louisville's fourth touchdown in the third quarter.

Two Louisville touchdowns were scored by Brewer, while Trabue, Shelton and Gitschier each tallied one apiece. Gil Waggoner added three extra points from placement.

U of L	0	0	0	6	6
Evansville	6	12	0	0	18

A pair of Evansville Aces gave the Louisville Cards a rough deal on November 13 at Evansville. Evansville's Purple Aces, led by the brilliant running of Gene Logel and Joe Unfried, rolled to a well deserved 18-6 victory over the Cardinals before a crowd of 6,000.

Scoring three touchdowns in the first half while holding the Cards scoreless, the Aces appeared content throughout most of the last half to hold the invaders safe.

The Kentuckians played some of their worst ball of the season in the first two quarters. Each time they got their hands on the ball, their plans went awry.

With the start of the second half, however, it appeared that the Cardinals had come to life. Twice they drove deep into Evansville territory but each time a pass interception thwarted their ambitions.

It wasn't until the final period that the Cards generated enough steam to carry them over the double stripe. That score, on a pass from Frank Gitschier to Frank Ramsey good for 11 yards, saved the Cards' record of not failing to score in a game for the last three years.

Statistically the day was a complete success for the Aces. It was Evansville's first victory in their series with the Cards. Eight times previously, Louisville had triumphed.

U of L	12	12	0	7	31
Bradley U.	0	7	7	0	14

The Cards returned to the win column on November 20 in handy fashion at Parkway Field, with a 31-14 victory over favored Bradley University of Peoria, Ill.

Led by the running of Joe Trabue and "Big John" Brewer and the fancy passing of Frank Gitschier, Frank Camp's charges chalked up their fifth win of the season against four defeats before the crowd of around 7,000.

Taking advantage of erratic Bradley play, Louisville scored twice in the first quarter, and added two more in the second period to jump into a big lead. Then after giving up two markers to the visitors, they stormed back to score the last touchdown midway in the final period.

Gitschier was finding the mark with amazing accuracy. And usually his target was one of two elongated ends, both of whom had a fine night gathering in Gitschier heaves. They were Bill Karrh, 6-foot, 5-inch freshman, who scored the first touchdown, and 6-foot, 3-inch Bill Ray.

Guard Chuck Asher scored the second touchdown when he pounced on the sphere after Brewer fumbled in the Bradley end zone.

Other touchdowns were tallied by Tom Lucia, Don Shelton and Ken Day. Frank Ramsey added one extra point from placement.

U of L	0	0	6	6	12
Washington U.	0	20	0	7	27

Louisville's Cardinals closed their season unsuccessfully on November 27, by dropping a wild and wooly 27-12 decision to Washington U's Bears..

Everything in the book happened to the Cards before a crowd of some 6,000, as they encountered some of the worst officiating of the season.

Tackle Amos Black was ejected from the game in the third quarter when one of the officials thought he was overly rough in throwing a block. Also, the Cards' erratic, inept play during the second and third quarters, after a Louisville drive was stopped on the Bear five early in the game, turned the game into what appeared to be a rout.

Louisville's two markers were scored on spectacular plays. One was an 85-yard runback of an intercepted Bear pass by fullback Ken Day in the 3rd period, and the other, a 75-yard scamper by Tom Lucia with a punt return, midway in the fourth period.

Also in the fourth period, with the Cards striving to get back in the running, the officials hesitantly called back a 65-yard Card touchdown, scored on a pass from Bill Karns to Bob Bauer, who subsequently lateraled to Joe Trabue. They ruled Bauer's attempted lateral in reality was a forward pass.

Basketball

Led by Captain 'Big Jack' Coleman, Louisville's basketball team continued to write glorious chapters in the annals of great Cardinal cage teams of recent years.

Moving into stiffer competition and playing the most rugged schedule ever faced by a Louisville team, the 1948-49 aggregation met the challenges bravely and terminated their season most successfully with a 23-won, 10-loss record.

During the 1948 Christmas Holidays, 'Peck's Bad Boys' journeyed to Kansas City for the Holiday Invitational Tournament and returned home with another scalp from the scene that Louisville gained one of its greatest triumphs. The Cards won the National Intercollegiate Basketball Association's 1948 Tournament at Kansas City in March of last year.

Throughout January and February, the Cards faced almost overwhelming odds to gain victory. During one four day stretch, Hickman's charges traveled East to tangle with LaSalle, Seton Hall, Duquesne and Westminster on successive nights. The team whipped Westminster easily, won in an overtime from Seton Hall and lost to both LaSalle and Duquesne, but by only the scantest of margins.

During the season the Cardinals rose to great heights. They amazed nearly 8,000 spectators in Louisville's Armory by holding the great Phillip's Oilers team, last year's Olympic Trials Champions, to a 50-54 decision.

Other great games resulted in victories. The Cards stopped North Carolina State on the Tarheels home court, 72-71 in the last second of play. Later at the Armory, Peck's boys trounced Eastern Kentucky 66-52, and Western Kentucky 70-64. On the strength of the latter victory, Western's Hilltoppers were momentarily knocked from the pinnacle of the Ohio Valley Conference Season standings.

But the Cards couldn't repeat that win in the finals of the Ohio Valley Tournament. Western came from behind to win 74-68 after a hard-fought struggle, which brought to mind a similar occurrence in the 1948 finals, when Western outlasted the Cards to win in the last seconds, 63-62.

Track -

The Track and Field Team had a very successful season in 1948, winning nine and losing but one dual meet. To climax the season, the team won the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet.

Forty-five candidates reported to Coach Dave Lawrence at the start of practice, twenty-five being retained on the traveling squad.

Cross Country

The Cross-Country Running Team was organized in 1948 for the first time since the war. U. of L. competed with Hanover College and Washington U. of St. Louis in dual meets, and participated in the Shamrock and Birmingham Cross-Country meets.

The Cards were trounced twice in succession by Hanover, tied by the Bears of Washington U.; but Don Noel placed first in the Birmingham Cross-Country to give Louisville its first victory. The Cards placed third behind Purdue and Indiana in the Shamrock. The following men made up the team: William Rudolph, Marion Fisher, Don Noel, Dan Hunt and Robert McBain.

Baseball

'Jolly John' Heldman's 1948 baseball aggregation stayed in the class set forth by its predecessors on Belknap Campus. They improved the University's win-loss record, winning 13 while losing 7. The over-all U. of L. record since 1937 is 108 won, and 31 lost.

Thirty-eight candidates reported to Heldman for tryouts and twenty-seven were retained. These men were issued new uniforms, the first new uniforms supplied U. of L. baseball teams since 1938.

The team batted exceptionally well but was weak in pitching and fielding. However, only one team on last year's schedule, (Miami, O.), succeeded in winning all its games against Louisville, without the Cards retaliating.

Lettermen were 'Tex' Ritter, Kenny Goodman, Jim Miller, Jim Flynn, Johnny Scearce, Bob Crady, J. Stitz, Bob Reis, Jim Marshall, H. Freidlander, J. Miliken, W. Raymond, R. Taylor, M. Wright and A. Green.

Tennis

Louisville's netmen, coached by Dr. George Muench, lived up to the winning ways portrayed by other Cardinal teams of 1948. The team won five, lost two, but avenged those two defeats later in the season, and completed the season with some laurels in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament.

They did all that without the help of any returning lettermen. Twenty-two men reported for practice. Of this number, nine were retained on the squad.

In the K.I.A.C. Tournament, Grayson Hanks won the singles title, while Kenny Walker and Benny Helm were runners-up in the doubles.

Louisville's golfers, coached by Athol Lee Taylor, moved into stiffer competition last year, but still gave a good account of themselves. They lost seven while winning four, but the losses came at the hands of such teams as Notre Dame, Xavier and Vanderbilt.

The team won the K.I.A.C. Tournament, and participated in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament at Athens, Georgia. Seventeen men reported for practice and eight continued throughout the season.

Letter-winners were: Ed Lowry, Ches McCall, Charles Shircliff, Skippy Lepping, B. Byers, B. Moorhead, N. Borden and J. Mohr.

BASKETBALL

Women's Intramurals, under the direction of Miss Betty Kirlin, goes under the official name of Women's Athletic Association. The W. R. A. belongs to the National Athletic Federation of College Women and the Kentucky A. F. C. W.

The Pi Beta Phi Sorority teams dominated play in the Women's Hockey and Basketball tournaments in 1948-49, all the sports that have been completed at this time.

The final standings in the Hockey League Tourney were: first — Pi Beta Phi; second — Sigma Kappa; third — Chi Omega and Zeta Tau Alpha. High scorers: Hilda Lorenz, Cardinalettes; Marilyn Jepson, Chi Omega; Ruth Lester and Elsie Sawyer, Independents; Mary Mullin, Pi Phi; Ann Almer, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Bobbie Phillips, Sigma Kappa.

In the cage meet, also won by Pi Beta Phi, the Cardinalettes were second and the Independents were third. High scoring honors went to Mary Mullin, Pi Beta Phi; Hilda Lorenz, Cardinaletes; Ruth Lester, Independents; Barbara Kreiger, Chi Omega; Dot Miceli, Kappa Delta; Mary Bosler, Sigma Kappa and Joyce Terry, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Men's Intramural Sports, presided over by Dave Lawrence, include the following sports: Touch Football, Basketball, Volleyball, Track, Softball, Horseshoes and Golf.

Among the accomplishments of the Intramural Department the past year was that 1,493 men participated in the over-all intramural program, and the Department published an Intramural Handbook.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity won the 1948 All-Campus Trophy, given each year to the team garnering the most points in all sports categories. The Sig Eps continued their prominence in intramurals by winning the Fraternity League championship for the third year in a row. In the playoffs, however, for the campus grid championship, an Independent team, the Jelly Beans, defeated Sig Ep, 13-12.

As the Thoroughbred goes to press, the race for the 1949 All-Campus Trophy is being thrown wide open. The Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity team is unbeaten in the current basketball race, and seems destined to take a short lead in the point standings. However, the victors in Volleyball, Track, Softball, Horseshoes and Golf still remain to be decided.

Student Health

SAMUEL ANDERSON, M.D.

FRANCES BRADDOCK, R.N.

The present reorganized Student Health Department is going into it's third year of activity. It is staffed by a full time registered nurse, a secretary and a part time physician, with offices in White Hall.

Although there are still deficiencies in the facilities for service a noteworthy attempt has been made to widen the scope and to follow through more carefully on the individual student and his particular illness or disability.

All new incoming students and those participating in special athletics are given a complete medical examination, and practically every student's physical status is reviewed every two years. This is in keeping with current college student health services elsewhere.

In addition to the basic function of examining the students, the Student Health Department is also moderately well equipped to deal with health problems and questions of the individual student, and also first aid and emergencies that often arise.

EDITORIAL POLICY

Editorial policy of The Cardinal this year has been an aggressive one, quick to censure and quick to praise. This has, of course, caused a great deal of comment and, as a result, the paper has been widely circulated and perused by many others besides the University students.

At times the student body responded quite well to the editorial views, contributing their own views to the Campus Forum. It was found, however, that when the editorials were insipid, the student body was completely apathetic.

For that reason, The Cardinal has believed in a frank, straightforward editorial policy.

During the rest of the war years, a number of students served as editor. Among them were Martha McGreavy, Warren Klosterman, Roselie Harris, Nancy Heyman, George Webber, James Mapother, and John Forbes King.

Maeg Wittmer served the next long term, 1946-1947, followed by Mary Stuart, 1947-1948. Ed Hageman was editor for a few weeks until Dick Cohen was named in the summer of 1948. Cohen has been editor since then.

This has been a year of many varied activities for Mu Delta of Sigma Alpha Mu. The local chapter, which was granted its charter on November 18, 1945, emanated from Beta Tau Chi which first made its appearance on this campus in 1939. The national fraternity was founded at the College of the City of New York on November 26, 1909.

Highlight of the social year was the two-day regional conclave played host to by Mu Delta in Louisville during November. Six schools were represented with many of the fraternity dignitaries on hand. The conclave was most capably handled by Chairman Ben Hanish.

Sigma Alpha Mu continued its leadership in the scholastic realm, topping the university for the second consecutive year in this department. Individual honors are too numerous to mention although it might be pointed out that offices are held by Jack Waxler and Herb Erlichman in honoraries Psi Chi and AED respectively.

Another member who has distinguished himself in campus activities is Saul Loeb, who has served as President of the Religious Council and news editor of the Cardinal.

Men who are bidding adieu to the school and fraternity this year include Hanish, Waxler, Al Churney, Don Guss, Marty Hassell, Ed Hytken, Marv Rosenblatt, Milt Russman, Ted Schramm, Ed Schwartz and Don Goldberg. To these men we wish the best of luck as they tread their respective paths through life.

ALPHA CHI OF TAU KAPPA EPSILON

The second national fraternity to be chartered at University of Louisville, Alpha Chi of Tau Kappa Epsilon today boasts an active membership of forty-two and a pledge class of thirty-seven fine men. Springing up from Alpha Zeta, a local fraternity organized in 1929, Alpha Chi was installed September 12, 1942. Alpha Zeta, notwithstanding their depression-year start, had grown to be one of the top organizations on Belknap Campus and quite naturally chose Tau Kappa Epsilon as their national affiliation.

Founded in 1899 at Illinois Wesleyan University Tau Kappa Epsilon was established "not for wealth, rank, or honor, but for personal worth and character of men." Seventy-nine chapters have been granted charters in its fifty years of organization and Teke now boasts a total national membership of 15,600 all over the United States.

During the war, Alpha Chi of T.K.E. was one of the few fraternities which maintained an active status. Once the struggling Tekes elected a President on Wednesday night who announced the following Thursday morning that he had received his "Greetings" and was to don khaki in a week. Post-war Tekedom is now completely rehabilitated both nationally and locally. Mushrooming Tau Kappa Epsilon can now claim the position of one of the largest, strongest and best national fraternities in the United States.

Pi Beta Phi, the oldest national fraternity for women, was founded at Monmouth, Illinois in 1867, and the chapter at the University of Louisville, which is Kentucky Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi was granted a charter in 1925. Since the granting of this charter, Pi Beta Phi has been an outstanding organization at the University of Louisville and the year 1948-49 has been most successful in the eyes of both the active members and the pledges of the fraternity.

At the beginning of the school year the twenty-three actives were most successful in the rush season and twenty-four girls were pledged to the chapter which increased the membership to forty-seven.

Then, after much hard work on the chapter house, which is located at 123 East Shipp Street, Pi Beta Phi was awarded first place in the sorority division for Homecoming Decorations.

Not only were the Pi Phis successful at Homecoming. They can also lay claim to the beauty which is said to be characteristic in Kentucky women. Betty Buechel, one of the members of the pledge class, was selected to be the Triangle Queen at their annual dance. Then Mary Lou Koch was crowned "Kappa Alpha Rose" at their Christmas dance.

In the field of athletics, Pi Beta Phi has won the intramural hockey and basketball tournaments at the University and at present has great ambitions toward being awarded the President's Cup which is presented in the spring of the year.

Scholastically, Pi Beta Phi was in first place among the women's organizations at the close of last year. At this time the chapter is working to retain this position.

On the twentieth of December, 1948 the chapter was host at a dance at Audubon Country Club. This dance is an annual affair and is still another of the many activities in which the Pi Phis engage.

It is the hope of every member of Kentucky Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi that this edition of the Thoroughbred will be the most successful annual to be published, not only because the Editor is a member of our organization, but also because the backing of the University is one of the main ideas and purposes of Pi Beta Phi.

1948-1949 History of Sigma Kappa

September, 1948 (remember 'way back then?)
With the coming of fall the U. of L. was in full swing again.
At First and Shipp, our brand new porch made everyone feel gay,
As did the pledges seventeen who soon joined Sigma K.
At tryouts for school cheerleaders the girls were right in step—
Lynn Smock was chosen for the job; why not, with all her pep?
October brought our Open House, and then Homecoming came,
When lovely Margie Hunter ruled as Queen at dance and game.
At Christmas-time we joined the fun with caroling and all,
While everyone enjoyed themselves at our Annual Christmas Ball.
Too soon the term was over and the second one began.
And still another group of girls we took into our clan.
About this time some news came out which made us happy too:
For we heard that Bobbie Phillips' name was listed in "Who's Who."
Then music came upon the scene and the house began to ring
With practice for the Quartet and in May, Fryberger Sing.
And now we're looking forward, with great anticipation,
To the next big event in all our lives;
The day of Graduation.

The Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity, as such, came into existence on September 26, 1913, after duly appointed representatives of three law fraternities (Delta Phi Delta, founded A.D. 1900; Alpha Kappa Phi, founded A.D. 1902; Theta Lambda Phi, founded A.D. 1903) had met and resolved themselves into one fraternity under the name of Delta Theta Phi. Since the entire membership of each became members of Delta Theta Phi, the fraternity actually dates its origin from 1900. Today there are sixty-nine chapters known as Senates, with a total membership of 24,000.

The Henry Clay Senate of Delta Theta Phi at the University of Louisville came into being October 23, 1948 as the first Senate in the State of Kentucky. The Charter Members were Thomas W. Burks, Jr., Alton G. Burckle, Jr., Arthur C. Coaplen, J. Carroll Fears, Jr., Jay F. Mueller, John H. Piercey, William E. Rummage, James W. Vance, John E. Wise. Our objective is to unite congenial students of the law.

HISTORY OF PHI ALPHA DELTA LEGAL FRATERNITY

Phi Alpha Delta, secure in its principles and purposes, has weathered war and depression and has proceeded along a steady, conservative policy of expansion until at the present time there are fifty-eight active chapters and thirty-one alumni chapters with a membership exceeding 18,000.

On May 1, 1935 a charter was issued to the University of Louisville Law Chapter with eleven charter members. Today the fraternity boasts an active membership of fifty-five and numbers among its alumni some of the most prominent members of the Kentucky State Bar.

The Beta Epsilon Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa came into existence on Belknap Campus in spring of 1943. It grew out of the College of Cardinals, the existing men's honorary fraternity. ODK is a national men's honorary fraternity founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914. It is based on character and achievement as students, faculty, and citizens.

Award

The Omicron Delta Kappa Award is given to the graduating senior in each college of the University who, in the opinion of a secret committee of faculty and students, best exemplifies the qualities of leadership encouraged by ODK.

The University Student Council is the supreme governing body of the University. Its elected representatives number is 20. There are two representatives elected by the college student bodies of the School of Arts and Sciences, Law School, Speed School, Medical School, Dental School, Music School, and Kent School of Social Work. In addition to these, the President and Vice-President of each individual school student councils are members of the U. S. C. There are six members of the University Student Council elected at large. The officers are elected by the council itself. These elected representatives determine the overall policy for student government, student affairs, and all student movements.

There are eight Commissions of the U. S. C. These Commissions are the working groups who carry into operation the policies that are created by the Council. Each Commission is headed by an ex-officio member of the Council. Each of these Commission heads meet with the elected members of the U. S. C., but they do not have a vote, only discussion privileges.

The object of the A.I.E.E. is to develop within the engineering student high professional and technical standards.

A.S.M.E.

The University of Louisville Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was organized on Belknap Campus in 1929. It is a professional organization with the purpose of advancing and disseminating knowledge of the theory and practice of mechanical engineering; a presentation of a proper perspective of engineering work and the opportunity to become acquainted with the personnel and activities of the National Society as well as to promote a professional consciousness and fellowship.

"L" CLUB

The "L" Club is an honorary organization composed of all male students who have earned a letter in some varsity sport. It makes it possible for all winners of an "L" to act as a group.

This organization is more than just an honorary organization because it has often given the athletic department assistance when needed. The "L" Club encourages promising high school athletes to attend the University of Louisville and make a name for themselves on the athletic field. The "L" Club also promotes closer friendship among the "L" men on campus.

To be a "L" Club member is to be considered one of the highest honors that a man in this University can attain.

The Medical Science Club was organized in the Fall of 1947 by Dr. Harvey Lovell of the Biology Department. Its purpose was to unite in one local organization those persons who are engaged or interested in any phase of medical science work, and to act as a central agency for clearing information relative to the medical sciences.

Any medical science student on the campus is eligible for membership.

PAN-HELLENIC ROLL CALL

First Row—Caldwell, Coots, Ellis, Fenwick.
Second Row—Green, Jacobsen, Jones, Korphage.
Third Row—Lowry, Moorhatch, Phillips, Rhoads.
Fourth Row—Slyn, Terry.

HISTORY

Pan-Hellenic is an organization of all fraternity women which is established on every campus where there are two or more national fraternities. On the University of Louisville campus there are six national women's fraternities represented. However, because of the large number of fraternity members on the campus, the chapter presidents and rush chairmen meet as delegates to Pan-Hellenic every Monday at noon.

The purpose of Pan-Hellenic is to stimulate and further friendships, university and fraternity standards, and to interest others in scholarships and inter-fraternity functions. This year Pan-Hellenic sponsored a Pan-Hellenic workshop which is a luncheon attended by all fraternity women for the purpose of discussing different fraternity problems.

PRESBYTERIAN CLUB

The Presbyterian Club is organized for the purpose of bringing the college student into closer contact with his church and the other students on the campus who have the same religious outlook.

During this past year the Presbyterian Club has made great progress in many ways. The programs that have been presented have been of interest and enjoyment. The one big feature of the Club is the fun and fellowship that all enjoy. Yes, this year has been a good one, but we know that they will become better thru the years.

The officers for this year were:

President ..... Dan Brand
Vice-President ..... Carol Ritchie
Secretary ..... Doris Larkins
Treasurer ..... Estell Eskew
Advisors ..... Rev. R. J. Hunter, Dr. William A. Benfield, Rev. Oliver Carmichael

Phi Epsilon Pi (The P. E. P. Club), which was founded in 1938 for the purpose of improving "school spirit", is celebrating its tenth anniversary by striving with renewed efforts to bring forth a complete sense of belonging and feeling of respect and devotion on the part of every student for the University of Louisville.

The year 1948 represents the most successful year in the history of the P. E. P. Club. A year marked by several firsts and numerous other achievements of importance.

The club got off to a fine start last spring by organizing an unforgettable student trip including 110 students to the Olympic basketball finals in New York.

In addition the club had among its many other duties the job of selecting and financing the entire cheerleading squad. We believe that the members of this year's squad are of the highest caliber; and we indeed are proud to have been able to supply them with new uniforms and to finance their way on various road trips. In conjunction with the cheerleaders the P. E. P. Clubers have been hard at work composing new cheers and songs, supplying decorations for goalposts, presenting half-time programs and card tricks, and building "bigger and better" bonfires at Pep rallies.

Last, but by no means least, there should be some mention made of the P. E. P. club's most notable achievement — the planning and running of Homecoming. This year's extravaganza started off with one of the finest Homecoming dances ever presented, the first one in fact, to have been given by the P. E. P. club. Johnny Long provided the music and everyone was thrilled with the dance.

The Homecoming Parade this year was a decided advancement over the fine ones of past years. This year, due to the grand cooperation of the organizations on campus, the parade was two miles long and contained many floats of expert workmanship. Equally fine results also were had in the House Judging Contest and the Post-Homecoming Game Pep Dance. The awards of this year also topped those of all other years.

The above things constitute only a few items of Phi Epsilon Pi's wide range of activities. None of these, however, could have been accomplished without the aid of many hard workers whom, we regret, cannot be named here because of obvious reasons. The new officers for next year (1949) are: President, Pat Long; Vice-President, Jim Bowling; Secretary, Evelyn Kinnard; Treasurer, Doris Mueller; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Paul Disney.

Here's looking to a "bigger and better" future!!!

The Student Union Building was a gift to the University of Louisville from the War Assets Administration early in 1947. The formal opening took place at a dance on October 3, 1947. Since its opening the Student Union Board has strived to maintain and enlarge the facilities of the building and with the by-word "Meet me at the SUB" you will find enjoyment and relaxation.

Acknowledgments

To: Mr. Andy Moore and his staff at Century Studio for the work they have done in taking and compiling pictures of students, faculty, and organizations.

To: Mr. Arthur Gunderson, director of Student Publications, for his interest and helpful suggestions.

To: The Deans of each school and their office staffs, whose records were an invaluable aid.

To: Mr. Leon Stein, Mr. Percy Friedlander, Mr. George Hubbuch, Jr., and Miss Kathleen Coomer, whose patience, cooperation, and appreciation of all our problems gave us encouragement on the most hectic days.

To: The photographers, Russ McDonald, Winston Nunn, and Chuck Pfeifer, who probably spent more hours in the darkroom than in classes.

To: Mr. Robert Steinau, whose photograph is reproduced as the 1949 Thoroughbred cover.

To: The members of the staff, without whose loyal activity and interest the publication would have been an impossibility.

They reflect the progress of modern dentistry

Bear in mind, that almost all patients who will come to you have been the patients of other dentists. When these patients enter your office they will consciously or subconsciously make comparisons. Naturally you want these comparisons to favor you. You can mold them to do just this. How?

1. Correct personal appearance—an all white uniform.
2. A tastefully furnished and an efficiently arranged office.
3. Operating equipment so modern it speaks for itself and commands attention and respect.

We, and every distributor of S. S. White Equipment are eager and ready to help you design and equip a modern dental suite that will inspire and aid you, beyond the power of words to express, to practise in your highest plane of endeavor—an office that will be in tune with modern dentistry today and tomorrow. Visit any distributor of S. S. White Equipment; learn about our free office planning service and easy payment terms, or write direct.
